My WORD again

LCenteur

Be one, be two, be on my toes,
Be blessed, be Me, Be and live "I AM."
Though time passes through space,
Though light increases through shade
Though you are, because "I AM" is between Us the Source and the means we become.
Again the blue of a direct ray
Beside the mental plane, again the
Red of the first ray purifies and breaks
All the undesirable thoughts whose
Constructs must fall.
Where the will of God is, as long as
Being blessed and alive, we
Plunge into the "I AM" whose beach of making
Is nowhere but inside.
Insight is real when "I AM" is there and
Before the Presence you can bow for the Beautiful to blossom in your heart
Like a flower of divine essence delivering
A perfume of human knowledge.
Wisdom is there in the insight where
No one but you can reach for yourself.
No blame, no meanness against anyone,
You are the angel and you are the Veil opening your heart to the Blessed One and enlarging yourself in Oneness with Him.

Domination over personal will is
Affecting no one as long as the heart,
Sublime in God, is one with
His will and His will alone.

When the waves of knowledge
Shower you, when the opening of
The heart strengthens its divine
Will coming to you, then, impassive and
Knowing who you are not, you can Begin this vertical path leading from Allness to Oneness.

Because on this path that you have begun,
All the steps are one when, from the Bottom of your mind you can
Call and recognize the One.

High or low, who cares? When
Space once more undivided by time
Crosses your arms in Christ.

Symbolism is alive in the flesh of
Your body when in the physical and
Residing there, you are a woman or a man,
Being human thus you glorify the Spirit of the soul hidden in yourselves.

For life is a gift, you should be aware
That movement is there too, calling for the
Will to keep divine all the coming and
Going that you will step forth with, daily.
Anyone may believe or not, being
Unaware of what is happening when

Consciousness is opening the heart and
When willingness is becoming divine.
So here is your responsibility
For being alive, human and divine at
The same time and for eternity, that is the Privilege you can share in Allness with Everyone.

Do not miss this, it is about time to Settle this enlightenment down into the present so that

All the lives can be yours too, because
You have come to serve them and the Divine also.

Do not be ashamed, do not be sorry.
The will of God can be all yours if
Spending your time searching the hearts,
You reach the space of Allness.

Now abide, awake,
Nothing anymore will be an excuse for
Those who, their hearts still closed
Run away from the effort, run away from the duty
To serve humanity instead of Themselves.

My Brothers and I, with you all, with
All of you, can now proceed, in terms of Communication, to deliver for the End of this century, to prepare the 21st century for the Teaching of the rays
Through the physical body, and thus preparing
The next incarnations of
Our Brothers and Sisters,

We will remain All together
Through the Externalization of
The Hierarchy your devoted and beloved
Elder brothers, showing the path from
Both sides of the subjective veil that will no
Longer be invisible.
With you all I am and remain.

El Morya

If your priority is the Divine, whatever you may call it, depending on the paths you follow, if this priority dominates every step you take on the path of service for humanity, if you are in total awareness of the importance of the teachings coming now through several mediators all over the world, connected strongly with the energies from Shamballa, then you are, even if you do not objectively know it, part of the Externalization of the Hierarchy in one way or another.

That means you may be on the periphery of my ashram of the first ray, working with a Master even though you have not met him yet, or it means that you are a member of the Ashram of Christ, the Hierarchy, and you have not yet realized it.

This Teaching, following the works of Blavatsky with us, and the Teachings of Alice A. Bailey, is the third phase of the teachings from the Hierarchy.

This does not mean that we, your elder brothers, Masters of wisdom, do not work with other messengers; it means that whatever we can do elsewhere on particular points of the planet, even if it is coming from us, does not belong to this Teaching which introduces the physical problems regarding the incarnation of the Masters, our disciples, being highly initiated in the sixth degree, for a few of them.

This Teaching is the very outcome from both the Ashram of Christ and Shamballa which is, we shall see together, a state of consciousness belonging to the sixth initiate degree, and the path leading to Shamballa as such is found behind the open heart, which is of Christ level.

Having worked with LC for several lives already where she had been my disciple, this mediation of the Teaching concerns the 21st century and all the babies coming now through the way of normal birth, used as vehicles for the Masters returning to the physical plane and enabling them to work in the cities, everywhere, in all domains of human, social, economic, political and scientific affairs of the world...

These Masters will not reveal themselves as Masters, they will be human beings like everyone else and work anonymously among you all, so normally that you will not be able to tell who they are.

Herein lies the recognition you can have about them, but if you recognize them, no need to say so, they will know, and you may then be able to work together and never mention anything about them but only about the work done.

The enchanted and magical period of thinking about the Masters, by idealizing them and making a big deal about what they are, what they do in terms of miracles visible here on the physical plane, is gone. No more of that.

Now they are just like you and have a similar appearance. The only big difference lies in the way they think, in how they approach problems, in their point of view and the very innovative way they have of creating new means both for society and for individual questions and problems.

Of course, they may have something special to do and they usually do. But you can also recognize them because they are very mobile. They just do not cling to anything they have done, they can literally switch their minds to another matter, another way, another country, instantaneously, because the service requires it. This is a very important point.

Additionally, they can change their minds very quickly when faced with an important decision regarding the Plan. I am sure you know what the Plan is, it has been described by my brother D. K. in the work of A. A. B., so I will suggest that you return to that part of the Teaching, no need here to repeat what has been told already.

What is crucial about the Externalization of the Hierarchy, I will say, is the fact that you will have to erase from your minds all the fairy tales about the Masters who, from now on, will share your daily life in all societies around the world.

This part of the Teaching originated in France because the Western mind is very tough, the mental plane is overcrowded with thought-forms from mental processes, and it is far worse in France compared to anywhere else in the world; and I am able, because of the first ray present in this writing, to break up these forms. Then the real work starts. When the thought-forms are broken, the atomized energies have to be cleansed up from the mental plane where they cannot remain.

This cleansing work is carried out by the initiates of the Hierarchy - third degree, first hierarchic initiation - they will absorb in their vehicles the pieces of broken energy, and through a very painful energetic process they will digest them exactly as they digest anything else, including food. This means that the energies have to descend from the mental plane into the lower planes, the landing place being the physical body, which has to digest, with the natural process you know of as physiological digestion, all the energies that are coming down.

This process is very harmful and the resulting pains can be tedious. The initiates at the beginning of this process, after the third degree, and some time before, will even have to stay in bed, and will go through all the symptoms of a bad, very bad digestion, as if they had been poisoned. And well they have been.

Because the energies of the mental plane are strong and tough, and poisonous too. You know, I am sure, all about bad thoughts. Do you? So imagine a big bad thought in its densest form, being broken up, and this is very concrete, imagine that you break a porcelain dish or a plate, and the pieces of thoughts, on the mental plane, are as strong as these pieces, so the initiate will have to go through a digestive process both on the subtle plane and in the physical body, sometimes akin to liver disorders with headaches and vomiting.

This is very tedious work for the initiate to go through, and he will learn to assume it and prevent it too, but sometimes he just cannot, and his obligation to clean up the mental plane is part of the Externalization project, planned from Shamballa and the Ashram of Christ, according to the needs for the purification that is taking place right now to make a passage between the spiritual and physical planes. The mental plane is currently a barrier of solid energies, crystallized by intellectual and mental processes through over-analyzing and over-thinking, and thus blocking energies through a lack of action.

This work is a priority for the Masters and initiates in incarnation, and that is why the Externalization of the Hierarchy is the theme of this third part of the hierarchical Teaching.

All the messages and communications given by the Ascended Masters are different, even if I, myself, can also participate, but whether they are authentic or not is not the point.

What I want to tell you, I, Morya, is that this third part of the Teaching is hierarchical, coming from the Ashram of Christ and beyond that, from Shamballa.

The mediation here takes place from Shamballa. The technique is one of identification of consciousness. This technique has not been tested or used before; I have always worked through mental telepathy and at a high level; it has nothing to do with the identification of consciousness, which my brother Master D. K. evoked with A. A. B. in their work, where it was said that there were no words as of then to explain it. Today the words are available because the initiation levels to Shamballa can be experienced from earth in a physical body and because of the energetic structure of the initiate who is my mediator to you.

The word I use is very important. I want all of you to understand that a messenger is not a mediator. And I leave it to you to get informed about this difference, which is enormous. And this last word is not an exaggeration either!

All the statements of the Teaching will have to be translated, but I wanted first to give you an original approach to what is being done in France from my Ashram. It is involved in this part of the Teaching because I am the Instructor of the esoteric schools all over the world, and in charge of the process of changing minds in the political world too. Both tasks cannot be separated from now on. That means my mediator is herself involved both in teaching and in political activities. This synthesis is to be experienced in your lives in which, from now on, you can no longer dissociate anymore the citizen you are from the spiritualist, on any path you travel as well.

From now on, and for this 21st century, you cannot live a spiritual path cut off from your life, no more gaps are allowed. Spirituality has to be citizen-oriented and democratic.

The urge is present, in our societies dying from a lack of responsibility. Violence is not compulsory. Everyone is concerned and it is a worldwide concern.

So this Teaching is available now, the feet of Christ are on the ground of earth and all of you have to step into those footprints to go forward, into the reality of the next century, bringing wisdom and light through all kinds of action.

This introduction to the third part of the Teaching is a step from Shamballa to the world. English-speaking people are numerous enough in the world to accede to this booklet and I intend to give to these words the very powerful energy of the first ray, of divine quality will and power through incarnation. This comes from Shamballa and once this energy is contacted, no one will ever forget it.

The straight way from Shamballa to Shamballa is this first ray and when one can work with it, their heart is open and their will is divine and not personal anymore.

With my mediator LC we are both working with this first ray, and all the books written in identification of consciousness will be recognized by the sensitive perception of the disciples as books sealed by this first powerful ray, going straight to the intuition through the heart and not giving a single word for the mental to analyze or trap in its density.

This is totally new. It can lead to headaches if you try to mentalize or intellectualize what is being given from the source of Shamballa.

This is an innovative and new approach, breaking the archetype of the Master that is also overloading the mental plane with wrong ideas about them. The Master is now for the first time present in daily life and cities, as well as in governments, economics or whatever other field.

Let me tell you about Michael Gorbachev for instance: he is a pioneer of the world; look at what has happened since 1980 and try to figure out what you can about that.

So many things will occur that are new to you, when the French books of the Teaching will be translated.

Twelve of them have already been published in French and ten of them have not been published yet.

LC and I continue our work; I have asked her to go where the identification of consciousness will be easier, and you can understand why it is not in Paris.

We had been working together on the first fourteen books while she lived in the countryside, having left Paris for one year, when I asked her to go to Geneva, or to the Dominican Republic, or to Morocco too, her birthplace, to write about fundamentalism through her experience with Arab countries. This is because Morocco will possibly be the example for a new moderate Islam, to experience and open the gate between the Western and the Eastern worlds.

Today - November 16th, 1994, LC is in Boulder, Colorado, because the energies there and its absence of pollution help her constitution while the identification of consciousness is occurring more easily.

Totally mobile, LC has been asked not to create any group or organization that could become a prison for the fluidity of divine life and will [for this coming century].

Now it is up to everyone to assume their work on a spiritual level without any other devotion than to the Oneness in God for his glorification on earth.

His kingdom is for the souls who are able to cooperate in total recognition and together on the physical plane.

I am, with you, as long as you serve the divine energies on earth, in "I AM" that belongs to the aspiration of everyone to the Presence.

The Presence is now accessible because the Masters of the Externalization of the Hierarchy bring it to you from their contact with Shamballa; all their work is filled with it and no one can stay blind to it.

Only opening your eyes will not be enough: you will have to open your heart, for this degree of initiation, where the ego finally dies to give birth to the integrated personality fulfilled with divine and Christ energies, is the 4th degree, the Christ level, that we call the open heart.

Before that the disciple is not really reliable to us, Masters from the Hierarchy and Shamballa.

This initiation and its recapitulation on the physical plane in the physical and energetic bodies is very trying. All the details will be given to you by a member of the Hierarchy in the books soon coming from France.

Also, you have to know that from now on and into the 21st century, all teaching will be written or provided in new ways by a member of the Hierarchy who has improved it and knows it through his own experience. These teachings will not be messages only, they will be a testimony to living the body experiences physically linked with Kundalini energy and its ascent within the body, as well as energetically with the wheels of the chakras, which are the means and openings of reception and transmission to the initiate.

All this, as you can see, is very different from what has been given before, because now, beyond being given, it is no longer simply theoretical, having been lived and experienced by those who are our mediators.

There is only one mediator in the Occident at this time, the others being simply messengers. You should know this from now on.

Right now, this Teaching of mine is pointing out, for the coming century, the reality and the importance of the descent of the Initiate. And while most of you are focused on how to ascend or how to be in contact with the Ascended Masters, I come here to inform you of the reverse process on these Descended Initiates.

Because they have been ascended and because they have attained the Ashram of Christ - Hierarchy - they are now able to come back as women and men to work at radiating throughout all the different areas of human society, accelerating the evolutionary process, which is urgent in this end of the century.

Too many points of view, all of them wrong, are now spoiling the global participation in the lives of too many people, and even democracy today is held in the balance of the dangerous ways in which it is applied.

This is, of course, worldwide, and no one on a spiritual path can remain blind to what is happening.

In America, violence is one of the issues spiritual people will have to focus on. When I mention spirituality, I would like you all to understand that it has nothing to do with religion. Even if you have your own religion and practice it, you have to improve your spiritual ways within your life or society, not only by bettering yourself (and certainly not by pushing forward the dogma), but by living the high values of a spirituality that is totally forgotten these days.

The world is dying, it is out of breath, there is no more fluidity in simply being human.

The structures are all consuming the spontaneous ways of relationships, whatever they are, and I include communities here, as long as they are not too structured.

Institutions are needed but they should not take the breath out of being human.

So, we have to be careful and be aware that the Church, whatever it is and whoever is in it, is an institution, and so must act like an institution, with the masses, that collective consciousness which is a danger in itself when it is not the sum of all individual consciousness, already illuminated and responsible.

The Buddha himself said: "Do not believe me, you have to experience and live everything for yourself. Then you will know."

So, everyone should be careful about their own path and try not to follow only but to experience first, directly improving on the way to the Divine, and not by following the intellect, the mind, or even the faith of others.

The direct way is always the best and even when you read, let the energy of the words flow into you, and try to discern what the impact is and where it is going towards which chakra. Is it the heart? Is it the solar plexus? or do the words stick to your mind, keeping you in a negative analytical state while on the spiritual path?

This is very important, because sometimes, when you buy a book, you can even feel, before reading it, the vibration therein, and whether it is talking to you or not.

There are Ascended Masters and there are also entities of the mental plane pretending to be what they are not. This is very difficult to discern, because when you are not beyond this mental plane and in full awareness, meaning the third degree of initiation, then no one behind will be able to tell. The light of the mental plane is strong and powerful and because of its very density, it seems like the Light of the Divine Source to those who are trapped there.

You can be very sincere and very trusting towards an Ascended Master, not knowing what is happening on the subtle levels when, especially on the mental level, a struggle is going on between light and shadow.

This struggle is not really a fight as you can imagine it, it is only the breaking-out of mental forms in their light and relief, which includes the digestion of these tough energies by our brothers and sisters from the White Brotherhood.

This work is part of the divine Plan to cleanse the mental plane of all the lights and shadows crystallized there, so that an opening can be made and be available for those on the path of Light and who, facing the mental plane, cannot pass through and are trapped by the bright thoughts that accumulate there.

This is real work, it is very difficult and can only be assumed by those who are beyond the astral and the mental planes, and are already working on the Plan for humanity from spiritual levels that you cannot yet access.

The archetype of the powerful Master, invulnerable and serene in appearance, has to be broken too. This archetype belongs to the mental plane, and is part of the collective unconscious where it wanders as an image, a form of light bringing a priori into all the thoughts you can have about a Master.

The Masters today, even if they are still and above all else Disciples too, are coming back to earth incarnated, and as women and men they work while you do not even know who they are. Because some of them have things to do which need an anonymous beginning.

Others among them must appear like Avatars or reveal who they are, depending on their work; anything is possible, and anything can be done as long as it is a project in the divine Plan.

You can imagine a huge puzzle being assembled on earth, where each Initiate, working in and belonging to the Synthesis, has to take charge of a piece of this puzzle and place it at the right moment, at the right time, and so on for all the pieces.

This is why, if a Master can be recognized, they also can in fact not be a Master, because they will not do anything to be recognized, they work on several levels, for different things, according to what has to be done, where and when.

You may be in touch with one of the Descended Initiates belonging to the Hierarchy or to Shamballa and not even notice them, because they are such normal women and men that you will not know in a million years who they are.

This is the Externalization of the Hierarchy or the return of Ascended Masters.

We call them, in English, the Descended Masters of the Hierarchy.

In French we call them "Les Maîtres en incarnation."

This Teaching of Ours, Masters from Shamballa and beyond, conveys the seal of the Hierarchy because what is transmitted is totally new, and also because My Brother D. K. announced it in His work with A. A. B. as the new Teaching on Christ consciousness for the last years of the 21st century.

And I can now point out to you the difference once again, between messages from the Masters and the Teaching I am in charge of for all the esoteric schools on earth. Messages are transmitted light and they facilitate awareness of the disciples, or for all those people who have no idea at all about any of the processes taking place on all levels from the physical to the spiritual, through the emotional, the mental and even beyond Shamballa, in order for the spiritual levels to be revealed now and in the future.

The Teaching from the Hierarchy, which started at the end of the 19th century with our disciple Helena Petrovna Blavatsky continued with Alice A. Bailey and now with LC, is esoteric, the science of the energies, spiritual, connected with Shamballa and formerly with the Ashram of Christ. And because Ascended Masters also continue their evolution, all the Chohans (Lords) of the rays (divine qualities which are 12 in number) have responsibilities in the Plan. Mine, as I said before, is of the Teaching and of Politics and its world.

This part of the Teaching includes information about the life of a Descended Master of the Hierarchy on the physical plane, where they happen to be pioneers in flesh and blood, because these digestions of energies that have to be performed are revealing how to incarnate the Light, the divine Light, and how to transform the shadows and their negative forces into energies of light.

This is a totally new work, which has been decided from Shamballa (state of consciousness) and which will help Humanity in its evolution, leaving the Masters free to continue their own evolution in Oneness towards Sirius.

Sirius is to Shamballa what
Shamballa was to the Ashram of Christ.

So you see, evolution, taking place in the finite frames of initiations, is itself totally infinite.

In the higher levels of Light and spiritual Divineness, evolution continues and no word today can name what happens there.

But it is similar to the former part of the Teaching, when D.K. could not describe the identification of consciousness because years ago no word could describe it either.

The path of evolution is endless and to advance you must forget about the end which is not, and applying your energies to the present, here and now, that is the next step and it is always new and unpredictable.

Only the mind is predictable, and as long as you deal with your own forces to overcome and produce positive spiritual energies, you always work with the unknown and your experience makes it clear and knowable.

So every step is another step, and leading the unknown to become known will make your daily life the most exciting and enthusiastic path of spiritual discovery you can ever imagine.

Because imagination nurtures the mind and not the heart, this one can only be fulfilled by Love. Opening the heart means dealing with your reality every day, pushing the limits beyond themselves where you are, as a real soul. This path is a difficult one because it is a total involvement of your globality: emotional, mental, spiritual, advancing together and trying to find a balance that the physical body can hold onto. The Embodiment of Light concerns every cell of the physical body and this process is very painful because physical matter is the densest and heaviest matter we know of. That is why you cannot imagine any longer a Master being totally unaware of the physical problems, because their digestions are a painful process taking place in the whole energetic structure, supported by the physical body which has to assume the final transcendence of the process in its very cells and organs.

The Teaching, in its actual third part, contains everything about this process and about the lives of the Descended Masters of the Hierarchy who come, by the natural path of birth, to be exactly in the same conditions and limitations as their brothers and sisters of humanity.

But it is not, in this Teaching, a technical approach. It is a writing going directly towards insight, it is an energy, the first ray, whose power is strong enough to break what has to be broken if you are too much on the mental level, and that is actually humanity's problem with its collective unconscious.

So, this writing is very special and you will appreciate when, once translated into English, it will be available to you.

"My Word again" is a direct introduction to this work planned for the Descended Masters from the Hierarchy, so many messages are now being delivered from somewhere, elsewhere or nowhere, by some people, either named or not. This third part of the Teaching has to be pointed out as an exceptional intention of the Divine Design coming from beyond Shamballa and dedicated to Humanity.

The Divine Design that takes form through the Plan and its pieces is available to human thought through the calm of a mind cleared of its negative accumulations.

Headaches and strange symptoms in the physical body are linked to the transmutation of the negative energies into light, through those digestions we have been talking about.

All the symptoms here are like those of a digestive problem without any cause, except for the work being done on the mental plane in total awareness by the Master in charge of it.

Shamballa

As a brother of Shamballa, giving this Teaching from and with the consciousness of Shamballa, I must warn you about all the misunderstandings and distortions being circulated about this burning subject.

There is much popular training, all around the world, for self-development, which is very good. But when you enter the initiation path, how can you be trained about what is totally unknown? On the spiritual path of interiority, everything from and about the smallest detail is unique to the individual and opens them up to what is needed, for and at the precise moment when it happens. If you add to everyone's individual path the fact that every step is a lonely one, how can it be possible to train someone to a state of consciousness that depends on the degrees and successive openings that are still regulated by karma, as far as the majority are concerned?

I can give you a parallel to this, easier to understand. I will do it using a technique on the physical plane because it can be observed, and because it is clearer. Take a prima ballerina, the perfection of her technique and the gift she was born with, gracious, elegant, beautiful, and then being very technical, to the extreme point where she is able to forget her technique when performing.

Pavlova or Noreev were geniuses of that calibre: when watching them you could be, yourself, taken out of your seat towards a summit never imagined before.

Now call this state Shamballa for instance, with all the respect we have, especially ourselves, for Shamballa.

Now let us say that we, as normal human beings, as women and men, are going to take up a Shamballa training course, to dance (meaning to live) as women and men like Pavlova and Noreev.

If the technique is suitable to everyone, the state of awareness and the physical body are connected to our previous lives and nobody can change its morphology.

So you start training, and because it is only focused on a technique, you will probably never be able to succeed and give love, which is the purpose of dancing beyond technique like Pavlova and Noreev did. Because technique is just a pattern, it is not the essence; it only goes to the shapes and forms, not to the heart, and there is no way to connect a mechanical behavior with a gift for the art, which is the capacity to open the heart.

So you see, sometimes people are born with this capacity, sometimes not. And it is on this capacity that you can work out the opening of your heart. This has nothing to do with technique, it has to do with your other energetic bodies, the emotional body and the mental one.

Now are there techniques to proceed with this work? Of course there are, meditation is one of them and it is now well-known. But you will have to find out for yourselves which one corresponds to your need, and then it can be changed because all techniques have their limits.

You have to know that only the intellect and the mind in their processes can be trained, never the heart. The only possibility for the heart is to open up, through letting go of every single thing or being you can have or can experience.

The heart is like a gift you are born with; whatever it is, you cannot improve it by technique; you can give it technique to express it more or better, but even without technique it will be amazing as it is.

The heart is the same; surrendering to the Divine will give you the key, but maybe you were lucky and were born with this surrender already achieved in some previous life. If not, you will have to learn about it, but even though technique can help, it will never make the opening easier. Technique and all its methods always correspond to density because the physical body and mental body are dense. The heart is all subtlety in its energies, Christ is there, waiting for you to be awakened. The achievement in Christ will not happen through techniques.

The greatest yogi with very powerful siddhis, with the most unbelievable capacities, went through techniques, but most of them were not living the enlightenment of the divine and Christ energies.

Living these energies means now, for the 21st century, expressing them in all the simple things of an ordinary daily life. Because nothing is ordinary to the Divine and the Divine sanctifies everything.

So the kingdom of God, Shamballa, must be here, among us in society, because more and more people, being open-hearted, will be able to continue their evolution through the heart, toward and from Shamballa.

Being in Shamballa is a state of consciousness that corresponds to the sixth degree of initiation, far beyond the open heart which is the fourth degree of initiation, corresponding to what we call the Ashram of Christ.

The Christ does not belong to any religion, he belongs to Humanity, and it is in this sense that we, Brothers of Shamballa, mean it.

Our brother Trungpa has lived the life of the warrior, which is the expression of Shamballa. Mostly unknown on earth, this expression of Shamballa will be used more and more because of the Externalization of the Hierarchy.

Usually the Tibetan people down on earth experience the third initiation, and some of them have open hearts of the fourth initiation, but none of them are beyond that.

Shamballa is not, will never be, and has never been, a society in the sense that you give to that word.

A society is a group of people who are linked together by rules and laws running the society, whatever the system.

Shamballa is a gathering of consciousness, aware of the group on both sides, subjective and objective, through individual consciousness, in the awareness that their identities are melting into Oneness for the best of Humanity itself.

Shamballa will not have, does not have and never did have any rules or laws but cosmic and divine ones, because being a warrior, a Master in Shamballa, means that every single human rule or law has been transcended for the best of the Divine, and that every cosmic law is understood as a means to serve Humanity by helping everyone accede to Shamballa. Therefore Shamballa cannot be a society as you understand the word; but a human society can be impregnated with the awareness of Shamballa, and that is the actual purpose of this third part of the Teaching meant in Shamballa and coming from the Hierarchy through the Plan.

Shamballa cannot be a community in the sense of a human group sharing a way of spiritual life and being trained to whatever it is. But you can join the consciousness of Shamballa through and beyond the opening of the heart, whatever your place in any society or community or city or country you are in.

This is very important to understand because it makes Shamballa into a focal point to reach inside of you, by the evolution of every interiority, and wherever you are, you can succeed as long as you can focus on the opening of your heart as a starting point.

Remember that techniques, even the best, can only train what is the most dense in you, that is the physical body and mental body.

The emotional body loses its power and reduces its reactions and effects through the opening of the heart because then you will have to let go. For this you cannot be trained, because it is a small death each time you let go, and then you will have to live this letting go, because first it is intellectual and reasoned. So when you let go, this can be a training, but then to live the letting go cannot be, for these deaths and rebirths can never be anything comparable to a training. It is then that your elevated spirit fulfills your interiority, opening your heart the calm (and already forgotten) resolution to be loving now, being more, because the object of love is to let go.

No training will go to the point where the mental body does not express itself anymore through having and analyzing. It just becomes the transparence of untrained tranquility that can only be experienced by the opening of the heart.

So, being in Shamballa and already beyond, I had to warn you against the distortions of the mental and intellectual approaches to our consciousness, which reduce the dimensions of both the divine and cosmic to a worldly and universal point of view of Shamballa whenever the initiation level of the open heart has not yet been achieved.

Why is this so important?

Because when you try to attain a state of consciousness, training yourself with a method, the same method for everyone, then you put a reduced mental frame on the individuals using the same method, and instead of enlarging and opening the heart, you control the mental, and at the same time, even if the intellects get used to the idea of being of Shamballa, you prevent them from being in Shamballa, because you cannot locate Shamballa elsewhere, within each person able to seek it within.

Shamballa is not and cannot be a geographic spot on the map. It cannot be located, it is invisible because it is formless, and only the effects of the consciousness of Shamballa can be lived and seen for those who have eyes to see.

Wherever a group is gathered, providing spiritual knowledge with love for humanity to better itself in the name of the Divine, then Christ is present, and the service goes on.

Wherever a group of persons is trained to pursue individual enlightenment through the same method for everyone, even for the well-being of all of them, then the mind and its human structures are there, and an unconscious gap separates them from the love of the open heart.

In the first case, individual freedom is respected and each can have their own means to choose according to their affinities. There is no imposition of any kind.

In the second case, a group of people has decided for others which methods or means to use, the same for all, like running a mass for a pre-determined and already-known purpose. Here Christ is not present. But strong and powerful enough entities from the mental level can work in the invisible subjective side of the veil, manipulating the goodwill at work toward the materialistic side of evolution.

We, brothers in Shamballa, know them as negative forces working in the shadowy brightness of the forms constructed on the mental plane.

From the objective side of the world, on the physical plane, this is very difficult to discern.

Because on that plane, the lights of the mental plane are perceived as light and applied to the forms on the physical plane, one can make out the difference between a lit form and one which is not. But the difficulty is that on the mental plane, all forms are lit.

Divine Light is formless and it appears when there are no forms left beyond the mental plane.

The explanations of this science of energies are all in the Teaching I am giving now with my mediator LC. And as you can see her presence and Mine in Boulder right now (November 1994) is not a coincidence.

There is a purpose that you will have to find out by yourselves.

Because you are reading these lines, you are able to figure out why and why now.

On the waves of time which the presence of Space annihilated, I am the Ray One, direct
From Shamballa where the divine quality of
Will and Power is the arrow of a new World.
The target is our heart.

Being touched, it opens to the fragrance of
Its flower, that it diffuses like the essence of the World, borne of Humanity in itself.

When it cannot be located, somewhere is Nowhere, but where, if not in the heart, can
You find the right place for this equilibrium, this Balance, this middle path, this
Opening, inclusive and unrestricted?
Nowhere becomes everywhere when the Heart, the key, is the only one that is Able to open itself.

You are the heart of the World and
Being so, you can find room for everyone to Join this heart which is both
Yours and of others, because when it happens,
Space has no limit and time no hour,
And so, being timeless and space-less, you
Will be Allness in Oneness.

This is the first step, each one inside the other, to Shamballa, will it be the last?

You will have to figure out by yourselves if it is

So and if the footprints before you are Numerous, the ones behind you will Remain so.

Because Shamballa is the voyage and the Traveler, the seeker without aim and the Beloved with no demand.

Each round trip is a circle and each
Circle has several circumferences whose
Centers are infinite.

The journey will continue from Shamballa,
But before, you can incarnate this
Consciousness on earth through your will,
Divine, to serve.

And if on the path you happen to meet a
Sister, a brother from Shamballa,
They, will never tell you about Shamballa
Because living this consciousness on earth is Beyond any training and explanation.

Ask them to talk about their work and the Service they are here for.

Then maybe, if your heart begins to open, you
Will recognize the signs of great
Mobility in non-duality they are Experiencing on the physical plane.

And because it is a human experience, you
Will know that being unlocated, Shamballa
Is right here, next to you, and that it is Possible, being from Shamballa, to Work on both sides subjective and subtle
And objective in density, bringing light
Into the very cells of the physical body to Prepare for the achievement of humanity by Humanity.

Recognizing Shamballa consciousness is not so
Easy and you will have some trouble when
Facing a man or a woman without anything
Special in their appearances, at first sight, you will
Just see them as a woman or a man.

They are only when the heart is open and has Traveled all the way to the shores of Shamballa,
Then the powerful and willful First Ray
Will be part of the human equipment.

This acuity, this strength, this
Enthusiasm, this warrior-like will and
Way to be, will give them the touch of nowhere
From which you can locate the previous
Trouble or attraction you might have felt.

Shamballa is already among you and not Necessarily where you imagine it to be.
Beyond the appearance or the social state of a Person, Shamballa lies like a sea shore at Dawn for you to see and that Rising sun over the world is part of your Responsibility to recognize and walk with
To help in the service of the Plan to be done.

Do not trust your feelings, trust the facts,
They are on and from both sides of the work.
Do not trust a person, trust the energy they
Let flow from their hearts.
The power is there, it is attractive or repulsive

For the non-evolved, but it is part of the Straight knowledge for those who know.

This is a direct transmission from Shamballa.
Your perception should take it as it is.
The energy is powerful and will work inside
Your heart and interiority for longer than
You can believe because once you are in Touch with it, it will last forever.

From eternity, into the world and your lives,
The present draws the arabesque of mobility with
The divine energies of the rays, like pencils of
Time on matter.

The paintbrush of space, dipped in the
Colors of the rainbow gives to this transparent
Drawing the touch of immortality which
Can be reached by the human soul through the Opening of the heart.

Diamond strong and Emerald deep,
White and green, bright and gardened are
The shores of the unlocated place to wherever leads the Heart.

Shamballa, the shore-less beach of translucent
Emerald-diamond colorless touch of a
Precious consciousness is the landless country
Of which everyone, included, is not yet aware.
Because being from is being in, and out of Nowhere you can only find elsewhere which
Will at least be also part of the path leading

There.

From one color to another, the notes of the Cosmic symphony relying on your heart will
Be heard and even composed by the music of
Each step carving the ground of your efforts.
But do not dream, Shamballa, a part of your Imaginations is not a dream, it is the Reality of a Divine purpose you are not aware of.
And being part of this purpose, the only way to Work for it is to find out the purpose you want to Give to your life if that choice has not been Decided before your birth. Because if it is so, then
You will have to fit the purpose each time you
Have a choice to make or a change to start.
All the turns will be right and precise if you
Abandon everything that was before, the moment
Before, to see exactly what is happening in the Moment, here and now, where the present draws
For you the lines of a strategy you can adopt when Everything, everyone in your life is gone and Let it be so.

This is the path of the warrior and even if
Shamballa is still far away then the energies
Coming from there will be tangible in your very Life because being always on the move you will Advance not looking behind but with your eyes
Focusing on this path made available
By the opening of the heart.

From a fragrance to the essence, subtle, fragile,
From the flower to the perfume, subtle, formless,
From the seed to the flower, beauty in its

Different aspects is there, expressing the Multitude of a Synthesis scarcely seen
By the majority.

It is the same for everything; when you start from the top or down on earth, you will encounter the same beauty speaking to the sensitive heart; even when hidden the heart can see it, because the eye of the heart is the inner eye and no one can tell if it is operative or not. Only those who can see inside or beyond whatever the form may hide have inner eyes dispensing knowledge, and no word is used to transmit or transcend.

Here the Silence of God, respected by the Divine Mother, will provide anything that is needed to continue the steps; one after another they will be slow or not, but what has time to do with that? Toward the kingdom of Shamballa, kingless kingdom where the heart, no longer an object, no longer a subject, melts in the fragrances of the translucent colors of the emerald-diamond to the welcoming shore unlocated in time and space.

The heart is the "Chalice" and the blood,
The means and the path,
The warrior, the fearless one.
The heart is the summit and the valley,
Formless, endless, infinity is its home and
Thus, from top to bottom it
Includes everyone and everything, no
Matter what or who, it gives

Strength and force because only
Divine love in its non-finite purpose can
Proceed and be from the heart,
Through the heart which is the
Divine pass to human beings on earth.
Shamballa is hidden in the hearts of
Everybody and when the emerald-diamond notes
Come to it, then the call is there, ready to be Heard.

Technique is the edge of a bell whose metal has
To reach the pitch and let it ring out
Like the music of the Spheres,
Very concrete and positive to human ears.
The sound of the Word is not the word and the Word can be a distortion of the vibration of
The voice.

So get on and let us go on and on, up to the point
you

Reach when nothing can be gotten and so will not go,

Then you have achieved the Allness because the Means are useless and knowledge, aimless,
Can only serve others as your brothers and Sisters but as yourself.

No more separation between you and
Others, this is the Christ-state of consciousness and
It comes with the opening of the heart.

Once the heart is open,
Christ is ready to climb the facets of the Emerald-diamond colors of the translucent
Shore of Shamballa which is the Next step.

So from the Ashram of Christ toward
Shamballa, a change of vibrating colors is
To be perceived and known as an inner
Music revealing the treasure of the Divine Mother whose cape unveiled the Beach-less sides of nowhere lying in Shamballa.

Connected to the heart, separation, exclusivity,
Is the last form to get rid of when, thinking
That you love, you only love for yourself.
This sentimental approach of a selective mentality
Is the last one to pass away.
It is the most difficult and struggling conflict
You will find in your own interiority.
The Self, divine, is beyond, when love can be it
Is inclusiveness working on earth for and with
All human beings, and all the beings on the other
Planes, animals, minerals and so on...

Look at the sand under your feet, how it is
Shining when playing with the sun and moon
Light, so you are aware of the unconditional
Joy filling the universe using the
Acceleration of light to express itself.
Years of light are wheels of time and when
Space welcomes them in its width, the Unlimited takes place.
Even if you hold some sand in your Hands you will not retain its grains. As well
Light escapes every attempt to grasp it.

You cannot take some light and put it
Elsewhere, you can admire it, enter in it so
It can fill your heart but it will not
Be your prisoner.
Be a lighting torch on earth.
Give light to everyone and lighten up everything
Do not be the prisoner of love or anything else or Anyone.

Being a lighting torch, bring your freedom to Others and then let them touch with their Sensitivity - if they are so able - let them see with
Their eyes - if they can - let them
Be in your light and give them time to Recognize you not as they thought you
Were but as you are.

To enlighten needs enlightenment and this
Cannot be taken away from you. It just has to last,
Changing the views of the intellect to be more Heartfelt.

So be a vivid torch of fire and light,
Burning only to lighten and not to harm,
Be a vivid fire where the divine light can
Glow forever and ever.

The Dawn of time is there in the fire of a vivid
Torch burning divine for the sake of humanity.

Be as vivid as the One Life itself
Be as clear as the fire of the flame itself
Be as warm as the very heart of the Divine Mother
Be as free as the light is, not captured, where does
The light and fire go when you lit the candle ?

No one can say.
Free it is, free it will stay.

Nevertheless the torch cannot be extinguished; it is like the divine bush in the scriptures: the fire there does not burn anymore, it simply makes the things around it clearer and more beautiful but can do no harm by burning.

So, because the splendid notes of the emerald-diamond of the coast of Shamballa came to you with this book, you will be able now - if you do not concentrate on that fact but on the opening of your heart, by letting go... you will be able to recognize it through all the teachings it provides because all those teachings come from Shamballa and they are under my responsibility as a brother of Shamballa.

Needing at one moment or another either the teachings of Sri Aurobindo or the teachings of Bailey or others along your path, Tibetan teachings also or Buddhism of any school, you will get in touch with it because such is the magic of advancing into the world of the energies. You will attract what you need, and the energies through the teachings will come to you.

You are now in touch with the first ray from Shamballa, which does not mean you should study this teaching, but that you are aware of this peculiar energy and that sometime or another, if needed, you will go further into the specific Teaching, including the esoteric science of the energies which you will find in all teachings as a part of it.

And now, because sometimes there are bad transmissions of the Teaching, if the Shamballa note is in your heart you will find out, perhaps not immediately but sooner or later you will know, and passing by you will continue your travel in the steps of Christ. Maybe it is good to develop your discrimination, maybe it is a karmic debt or maybe an error, but whatever it is, take it as a positive experience; you should have no regrets on the path, only joy, and if you offer this experience to the Divine, you will change shadow into light, because you are a human being and you can make mistakes, it is part of our life on earth.

Misunderstanding, not understanding when you think you understand, represents the gap between intellect and heart, at the beginning.

Only the intellect and the mind believe they understand, because they are analytical.

The heart does understand when life experience in living is there. You have to go through the experience and only then is it yours, even if no one else can understand it. This is the path of initiation.

Initiation is not the manipulation of the energies.

It is the experience of the energies in our bodies.

Once you have been through any energetic process of receiving or sending energies and knowing which ones, then you cannot forget it, it becomes part of you, like when you taste an orange for the first time, it is part of your experience and if you try to explain the taste you will have a hard time, because you should eat it to know the taste once and forever.

The science of the energies coming from Shamballa is exactly the same. You can talk about it, but as long as you have not received these energies, as long as you have not worked with them and been able to transmit and diffuse them by the words or the silence in any creative writing, painting, or art of any kind... as long as you have not understood, because you live your life with these energies, then your very life is part of a divine artistic work that is expressed as divine in all the details or actions you will go through for the service, and then too you can continue to try to understand with the intellect but it will merely be a mental process only.

The science of the energies is from Shamballa, it is the natural process of the deification of the human being through evolution.

The opening of the heart is part of the process that continues, following the needs and demands of the individuals as a group consciousness on a certain level, providing this group consciousness that is under the responsibility of a Master of Shamballa who is in charge.

This means that you can already work on a subjective level of consciousness with a Master of Shamballa, not being aware you are doing so in your objective consciousness.

This means the group consciousness is both subjective on the subtle levels and objective, sometimes,

but the important part is hidden and invisible, for it is not part of a collectivity or community on the physical plane.

In such a group as a community, you may have members of the group consciousness but all of them are not part of it.

On the subtle plane, the reality of direct knowledge is linked with the clarity of the identity in Oneness shared by the members, either those of the Hierarchy, or those of the Council of Shamballa who are in contact with them.

The second part of this Teaching of the Hierarchy was focused on the bridge to be built between humanity and the members of the Ashram of Christ. The world servers were the unconscious part of the process.

Today with this third part of the Teaching, we are focusing on the bridge between humanity and Shamballa through the Hierarchy, which is the first step towards Shamballa.

At the end of the next century, we will focus on the bridge between the Hierarchy and Sirius through Shamballa, with humanity as the opening-heart background of the whole process.

Is that clear to you?

It is better to get familiar with the initiation processes, and you will find those in the books of A. A. Bailey which describe - it is of course intellectual - the points and references of the initiations, step by step, from the physical to the emotional level and then to the mental and the spiritual. As means, these descriptions can be useful when going through a step of the process, reading and understanding what has happened to your interiority.

Some disciples learned these processes by heart in their initiations, this is the best way to close the heart with the mental constructs about the forms understood. This is a journey into the energies, your energies, remembering this will keep you from emphasizing or idealizing some of the parts of the teachings you would like to be in.

This is only illusion.

So be careful not to fall into this trap.

The path of the warrior to Shamballa brings you to the powerful first ray, this divine quality you can work with only when love has become not a feeling anymore but an inclusive and direct way to be and to behave in the world.

When this kind of love, which is Love because then it has become divine, is experienced, it is really amazing because so many misunderstandings can burst out from its effects that anyone can either be blessed with or within it, or feel rejected from it.

Because the usual way to love is sentimental and very selfish, when this love is experienced by someone who cannot live with it, it becomes the contrary of what it really is and the person thinks that there is no such love.

Love fulfils need, not envy or desire. And the un-evolved ones are motivated by the emotional affects, the worst part of the ego. Our world bases family education on sentimental emotions. Sentiments are good because they can be transcended. Love in its purest state is an emanation of the Divine and its infinity. Oneness is the Allness partnership, loving and doing without any thought of return. That is love.

Immensity is the cloud of the finite, the veil of human feeling drawn on the horizon.

Infinity is the clear line of no horizon because it runs on the circles of the Spiritual Sun as totally mobile lines whose centers are or may not be; it does not matter anymore whether not in substance or in its subtle profile, which means no importance is given to anything.

This could sound negative but it is not; when the essential is the priority, the essence is there, inhabiting the heart, because it is important; at the same time it is not, because you know that when you have resolved a conflict, "for" and "against" vanish in your newborn balance.

Infinity is there, always newer in eternity, because each discovery about it is wordless and unique, and at the same time it is global and known for ever and ever by those who live in it.

In the ices of the mental processes to the Construction of its forms, relief is part of
The shadows. The energy of light coming

Down on them first accentuates the shapes and Then breaks them. This is the work of the Masters to be done from the physical plane.
It signifies that when you are in the light
It can be behind you but it still radiates
From you and so it is ahead, lightening up the Horizon from the inside of the interiority of the Incarnated Masters from Shamballa.
The ability to see and break the shadows and
Their shapes is a highly empowered one which
Is their reliability of the Council of Shamballa.
From there, Love is a bridge no longer
Used as such because Love, neutral and
Companion of eternity can only be and nothing
Can happen to it or reduce it.
Love is action.

Action is the first ray's purpose in its divine will to be, and its powerful intention is creation through creativity. It does not come to you, you have to walk or climb or whatever towards it and then action takes place at the right moment, at the right time, and it will be perfect because divine intention, power and will will be one in you.

We, brothers in Shamballa, have made it accessible to everyone. That does not mean anyone. By becoming someone, you stop being anyone because if the call here is strong enough and loud enough for your heart to hear, then you are someone and you can start upon this journey.

If love is the means and the purpose, the aim is no aim but service, on earth, where you are, with what you have and as you are. Simple, very simple.

Simplicity is impossible to understand by a mental process because the mind is complexity at work on all thoughts, events or appearances. You cannot go behind appearances or beyond forms with your mind. Because it works on forms and cannot get rid of them. It is always examining appearances and trying to add limits where they are already.

So simplicity cannot be part of mental processes. Even if you try hard, if the effort comes from the mental level, then your intellect and your imagination will do a lot of work to emphasize one thing or another, trying to explain or to see what simplicity can erase when it is lived and is present inside your heart.

That is why very often you think you love someone, but it is your mind that loves her or him.

Reason is the justification of the mind, the heart has no need of any justification.

If you can find good reasons to love someone, then they are bad reasons.

If your heart does not accept someone, whoever she or he is, then you are not a loving person. You are exclusive and love is still unknown to you.

And then you will have to plunge into your own shadows to see and understand why you are such an exclusive and unloving person, which is psychological therapy and does not enter this part of the Teaching, where we suppose that this work has already been done by the disciples interested in it.

On the oceans of the ages you will float like a piece of cork, and seeing the birds in the sky you will feel how free they seem to be until, being yourself like an eagle, you will know how heavy flight can be and how light gravity also is.

On the path of the warrior, you have to face appearances until the time you pass through making density lighter and subtly more concrete, because matter is spirit in its densest level as spirit is matter in its subtlest level, making what it is down there the same as what it is higher up.

Knowing that, you can live the globality of life whether it is subtle or not, on whatever plane you work and whatever it is you do because then, you know that nothing is separated except by the mental processes of men and women, for the spirit and mind, spiritual and human, are both and together two sides of a same life whose parts are always and will always remain the One Life in synthesis and in Oneness.

Infinity is in every drop of the ocean and so are the waves, flowing from eternity to eternity in this motionless movement of life where everyone has his/her being.

Becoming is the human adventure and evolution is like a train you can take or not take, but it will always pass by and go, whether you choose to get on board or not.

Becoming is like the wings of a butterfly, it lasts so little in time that new wings and newborn butterflies have to live that fraction of time which every life represents. In its dusty colors, the butterfly is not afraid of the wind and through the tempest it loses the colorful dust of its wings but its flight remains a flight, because the time to die brings another one the time to live.

So are we, human beings, wingless heavyweights; down on earth our power to fly is none but we can make it happen by opening the heart; which gives us the horizon as a spring-board towards Shamballa, on the beautiful colors of the emerald-diamond translucent coast where we, one day, can be reborn.

Birth after birth we follow ourselves to the point where Christ can live, bringing into our hearts the divine energies to heal and protect, love and set free. We are the warriors on the path of Shamballa, we are handling the torch of vivid life whose flame is Allness through individual consciousness, gathered by the group consciousness we all can join.

This is the new flame of the 21st century, it is as new as eternity and as old as the ages. We are the drops and the waves, the ocean and the tides, the birds and the flight, the sky and the light and because we are, we can be ourselves and all the selves of humanity in the minute we love enough to share what we are and become: love in action, which is that service to humanity at every level we are able to give as long as it is without any hope of this love being returned.

This is the path of the warrior and it is cosmic, universal and worldwide as much as local, regional, national and international.

This life is to be lived on all the planes we have access to, in all our relationships whatever they are, and in all our work whatever we are doing.

To try to define or qualify Love is the weirdest thing to do.

The only thing to say is that Love never expects anything in return and that if you do expect something from the ones you love then you do not Love them, you love yourself and are looking for self-confidence through a comfortable relationship.

No difference, no conflict, no aim and no reference can be the foundation you give to Love, so do your best to keep that alive and do not expect anything from anyone in return.

The divine intention is for the evolution of humanity so that this planet can become sacred. Then evolution will continue here and on other planets like Sirius, Venus and some others still unknown, where lives are possible in subtle bodies. That means that the physical body will not be necessary, life will be different and so will perceptions and behaviors.

Not being there we still have to continue and accelerate evolution because the planet is in danger, and only consciousness in its high level can provide the energies to stop the slaughter.

Forbid and forgive together, they are both sides of an inner conflict whose vision of what is good and what is bad is automatically a negative and opposite view of the sectarian thinking that the mind provides.

This is simply to point out that a "no thought" point of view can nurture the heart and remove any guilt from your mind.

Sincerity on your path can be either good or bad. It is good if you are not under any influence and it is bad if you do not add discernment to it.

You see, before the opening of the heart, your inner conflict, everything you think or do or even make is due to the opposite points of view that make something good or bad.

Only when you are in the pure energy of Love will you be rid of this conflicting aspect of all things and so be able to live beyond this resolution of all problems, so you will also be able to initiate the right action which is Love.

If you make a deal with yourself at the beginning of the path, it has to be clear and for the long run. No haste can interfere with the path of the warrior, because infinity in its eternity cannot be hurried in any way.

Hear the call, embrace the light of the fire burning there and never let go of that flame in your heart. Make it still and steady and then, step forward.

Ascended Masters and Descended Masters are the same in this coming and going forth, including group consciousness in its whole partnership between the Ashram of Christ and Shamballa.

Because consciousness lies in Oneness where it is the part of the Divine Mother of the Godhead, and because all the Masters were human beings before ascending.

This arrow, like a line from humanity to the Hierarchy and from there to Shamballa, is a vertical perspective of the intention of God.

The horizontal perspective is the Externalization of the Hierarchy in its current phase.

Being human and being divine are two dimensions of the process, and who is up is also down, and the reverse is true because going step by step through initiation is being ahead and behind at the same time. Someone always precedes you as you follow and, at the same time someone follows you, you precede someone else, which makes the path safer and more understandable wherever your position is or will be.

Like a crystal of snow shining in the sun, you are a glittering part of the Divine and the more you are aware of this, the more you surrender and the less your steps will slip beneath you.

Like the crystal of snow, you have different states of matter from water to ice; you can also be vapor of the divine substance, vanishing into the air and entering the essence of eternity, where the Mother of the World, the Divine Consciousness, wants nothing but Love, is nothing but Love.

Like a crystal of snow, you can melt into water and flow on the ground to prepare for the next spring and for its harvest, because your consciousness is that link to the informal wordless sound coming from eternity through Shamballa.

The Divine Source is the eternal river where you have come from, as a drop of Love untakable and cherished.

Look forward to being yourself, you will find no one there but Love, and once surrendered to Love you will be no one but the One, absolute and unthinkable.

In the tempest and the wind you will be snow or rain falling from the sky onto human ground, making it fertile as mother earth can be when filled with the energy of divine nature. The Divine will bestow you and you will bestow it upon yourself and your non-self and others through such calmness and serenity that no seeking could ever find.

And so, on the vertical line of your service, being aware of the divine Plan to be realized on earth, you will be part of me and I will be you; this identification can only be a result of an impersonal human behavior, far from daily life and within it, embodying light as a duty and receiving it as a right.

Because from then on and forever you will be connected to the very divine energies themselves, according to what has to be done, which is different for everyone and the same in synthesis.

All the parts of the Plan are beheld in divine Light, and the Divine Mother, uncaught in consciousness, has the fluid approach of the holy space already dedicated to the ultimate.

Through the everlasting centuries, the song of the Word will be heard, and as vivid as a spring in a forest it will sound forever in the hearts of the Beloved. This song from Shamballa is and is not, it is the melody of the world servers and of the notes that fall, like rain drops on quiet minds or like a film negative without any image, as the shape of the Mother gives form to the work to be done.

Because the Divine Mother when passing through Shamballa can remain and go further onto the next divine step, opening her cape and leaving it because its endlessness has the space to be unshaped.

When the lights are provided in their brighter tones, the laser of their rays are all of divine qualities of which the Mother, remaining and going, can move away from you to be closer to them. And in the cosmic journey with no beginning and no end, the Mother will make you feel the vibrating tones of the colors of the light which from red to violet, and then to blue, will surround you, as you need to be briefed for this service in the world, you, who don't belong to it anymore.

Love, as an excess fulfilling space, always finds the way to your heart; the only thing you will have to do will be to surrender and open your heart.

Because it needs courage and because it needs silence, getting used to these vibrations will take a little time but once you are within them and once you accept them, in timelessness you will remain and proceed forever in service for humanity and in Love of the Godhead.

The Mother and the Godhead are everywhere and within you, your heart will be fulfilled and your head cleansed of thoughts if at once you feel that vibration which is already there, waiting for you to be conscious of it.

Love being excess is also the measure which grows larger and as calm as the steady Mother is.

If you can love and live, you will be the provider of the energies of the Divine Mother to be embodied, and the light you will radiate is the only power the world needs today to get rid of the shadows of the crisis it is going through.

On the screen of the mind of God are the unrevealed, the unknowable and the Light. Like a projector with a reel of blank film, everything is yet to be done.

Being in the world you will not be of the world anymore; you know that then and only then all the kingdoms will be yours and Shamballa will be your place, from whence you will come and go everywhere until the next step, which will be on Sirius. Because when entering the unlimited, infinity is the endless rug you will be walking on and on forever.

You are the ones and the others, and being them you are also part of the Divine with both energies from the Mother and from Shamballa which is the place of power and will as the means of direct action: LOVE.

Clarity, as an effect of the divine Light, can even cleanse the physical body. It is with the light, from the light, through the light and into the light that the Divine Mother, in a gaze, makes her descent both with the supra-mental and its transforming power, and all we can do is be ready. If you have not prepared the ground within yourself, then the Light will pass by and the transforming power will not work within you.

If everything is given, it is because you have to give everything and should do so.

If the Light can fulfill your heart, then why ask for anything else? If you do, that means that you are not filled with the Light and Love, because your personal interest is elsewhere and your ego is so demanding.

What is the question to ask, where are your needs, if Light and Love are there and you let them fill you from within, then, you see, everything, and globally so, will be automatically and harmoniously working as divine energies inside of you and from within.

From the Supreme and to everywhere the energies of Light and Love flow, it is like water, it goes to the smallest space of your bodies and to the world too, we are all surrounded by them, and integrating them is sometimes very difficult. That is because it is so simple.

Lila is the game of God into matter, and we can be this matter, totally divine, if we let God play his life game with us, but we have to be aware of this privilege and go with it, so we can open up to the playful mobility of the world of the One Life.

Oneness is a movement, it is very fluid, and keeping your identity of embodiment, as a woman or a man, you have the great opportunity to be movement itself and One Life too, with both their attributes: Light and Love.

From the Ashram of Christ which is on the higher level of the mental plane - the soul level - from Shamballa and its sixth degree of initiation giving that consciousness, from Sirius and over which, beyond the knowable that is still unrevealed, we, as human beings, have the key to the Supreme and to all the points in space where He chooses to put a center like a wheel of Love, to be more available to us. Many centers, one single energy fanning out and open like a semi-circle, universal and cosmically untakable, with different kinds and qualities of Light, which are all transformable and divine.

Fitting yourself to the Divine is receiving the Supreme through the lights of his transmission, and then being enlightened as part of the descending omnipresence of the Divine Mother.

Playing the divine game of the One Life of God on earth is to radiate the Light of the quality rays of His divine purpose.

Serving humanity and bringing the clarity of the Divine, on earth, is serving the purpose of God.

But God is not what the religions have made of him. He is beyond all that, in the supreme expression of the world-less where the Word is but a sound, silent and loud like the symphony of space beyond the divisions of time.

Nothing from the Supreme can grow because it is there for ever and ever, only you can open your being and heart to be ready to receive it. Only your opening grows, depending on your capacity to let it grow. This is the preparation you owe, as a human being, to Light and Love, because if a mission is human, it has to be motherly divine, otherwise the fatherly power of the will of the Supreme is too strong to receive it.

So bringing the feminine polarity of the Divine Mother in all work towards light and from it is necessary, so as to achieve the passage of the energies toward earth, in all of us.

This feminine polarity cannot be eluded anymore, as neither can the fatherly energies be weakened by an approach too emotional. Emotion is the feminine part of the sentimental way of loving. Emotion is not part of the Divine Mother whose energies and Light are quite clear and straightforward.

This is to say that it is time, at the end of this century, to prepare for the dawn of the 21st century as we must, it is time to give space both to the feminine polarity of Light and to the fatherly power of Love.

Light and Love are the distinctive feminine and masculine polarities, yin and yang, of the synthesis in expression.

Here, please, you must read with your heart and intuition before you can see. Because the world, with all the divisions we know: religions, languages, nationalities... has so many words for so many different meanings, apparently, but coming from the same ultimate source and having been distorted by mental processes, especially in the western countries, that here you must make an effort to listen to the source. All the words here are coming through Light and Love.

And with the first ray of Master El Morya for this part of the Teaching, the second ray of the Divine Mother is making a couple in Light that, being one, has two tones like the notes of the same music that melt for you in the song of its melody.

If we work together, and if I am part of the work as a feminine polarity brought to the very powerful energy of the first ray, it is because the time has come for us all to work together, showing how inseparable Light itself is from Love through action.

And the action to write in this identification of consciousness, which is the new way between initiates to communicate and to transcribe, is a loving and luminous action through being. In the identification of a conscious process, the two or three initiates are one.

That has been done here with the mediator LC and Master El Morya.

Our energetic transmission to you is the demonstration of the unity in Oneness, through the combination of two Personalities serving the divine purpose on earth and on all other planes.

Being identified through space and time, all of us have been working on the same level of consciousness, with the strength of both Love and Light.

Together in Allness we have made the Oneness available to all when individual consciousness is part of the Divine Mother, meaning when group consciousness is operative from the planes within.

This communication had to take place during the eclipse of the Scorpio moon. If you know the signs you will understand why, if you do not know them you can inquire in any book on astrology. The "Esoteric Astrology," by A.A. Bailey for example, explains this.

The Plan, all divine in its parts, has to make the synthesis obvious.

This work with Master El Morya and LC is a way of showing you how synthesis works through identification of consciousness, which is timeless and only needs a space of Light and Love, like the cycles of the moon.

Everything is possible, nothing is impossible with the powerful Supreme and his Light and Love.

Everything is possible, nothing is impossible with the feminine opening of the Light and Love polarity of the Divine Mother.

We met in this divine process letting Light and Love be part of all as well as part of each of us.

May the triangle we are forming here be the door to this 21st century, where synthesis will be for all the great symphony it is, and may you become aware that each of you is part of it like notes are part of music.

This is the mediation we had to bring to the world.
And now you know the difference between a message and a mediation.

Mediators of the supreme couple of Light and Love, with Paramatman and the Divine Mother energies, in nothing and in everything, in God, we have stepped out for you from Shamballa and beyond to the ground of our planet, printing there the footprints already walked by Christ-level Initiates.

When you read this book, may the Divine Presence be there as it is for the three of us.

God bless you, every time, every moment, every minute, every second of your lifetime.

Being an introduction to the third part of the Hierarchic Teaching, this book had to bring our work in synthesis within group consciousness and in total evidence.

Pointing out to you how powerful group consciousness is in both its subjectivity and objectivity, we, from Shamballa and beyond, had to unveil the mystery of being in touch in a concrete work without any physical contact.

That is why, instead of explaining, and so giving food for the mind to overwork with, we decided with the Council of Shamballa to give an example of what is done on the subtle planes through this new process of identification of consciousness, which is the purpose of the work done by the initiates on all planes.

"Being one and the One being you" is only a concept if you are not experiencing the consciousness that corresponds to this very particular work.

The books of the Teaching already written in French are not really understood, and as far the next century, we have to express this work as much as possible in the best and most concrete ways we can.

This transcription is a creative work, technically using the science of the energies in total identification of consciousness through the power of the triangle.

My mediator LC and I, Master El Morya, have proceeded with this work from Shamballa because identification of consciousness can only be achieved from that level.

Here the fact is that nothing is separate, and when one lives the divine energies, they are automatically connected with the same energies everywhere else in the world, with whomever is living in them too.

All the points of the triangle were settled on the subtle plane, while the expressive work of writing was taking place in Boulder, U.S.A.

That means all the creative work, both on the subtle and the physical plane, was possible because of the synthesis of Light and Love, bringing the first and second rays into its original synthesis as two all-divine qualities into the global work we were performing, sending, receiving, writing and at the same time, from our three points of focus, being one in Allness and Oneness of group consciousness.

Depending on our service and on what our dharma is, all of us, depending on what we must do, the completion of which is part of the puzzle of the Plan, we were all together connected as the parts of one work, using the global consciousness of the group as a vertical convergence of our specificities, originally one in synthesis.

That means, at the same time and doing the same work, that we are also part of it and one with it, because of work from and for the synthesis to be shown and expressed through experience of an obvious manifestation for all of you.

The male energy from Shamballa with the first ray was the basis of the feminine polarity, very fluid, to be expressed as well as possible.

Being the eye, the action of God was Love and Light; being the doors, LC and I were energies in motion, sending through our triangle the force of words like arrows, while the laser lights of the Divine Mother, like pencils in movement, design the arabesques of the colors of Light.

And so, you will understand that the work done here is another door, one more, opened by the Divine so that your aspiration and comprehension can pass, toward the Divine, for you to experience through the energies of brightness - Love and Light - provided here for you.

When the books of the Teaching mediated by LC are translated into English, you will have, with the other traditions or teachings you have already read, and the ones you will read, the means to intuition and open heart.

Because we are not talking anymore to your mental processes and because the heart is the focal point we concentrate on, its opening is lacking in the world, because the energies of Love and Light come through the heart.

And because we are not talking to your mind anymore, as I said, this book and this experience are for you to meditate upon.

Identification of consciousness is, let us say, a new proceeding experience lived by the teachers of the new age, in this 21st century, and no one will talk anymore about something they have not experienced in their life as a service for all of humanity.

In Allness

In Wholeness

In Oneness

In total-ness and global-ness

With the Supreme and with God

With the Divine Mother

In Love and in Light

For you all as one in the open heart of Christ

From Shamballa and beyond
Passing through and by
I remain

Your devoted brother
El Morya

Be you, be me, be one in peace,
Beware, Be care, Be self and else
Be you and I else time elsewhere and
Be the one who is one Himself
Giving space the time to be
No more finite in endlessness is you and I
Who care for all in one consciousness in All Oneness.

So from the heights and the bottoms,
Down on the earth and at the summit of Shamballa,
We will be you and I and her
Altogether in one and more
Activating in Love and Light
The vividness of being, the non-less of doing
By coming out of the triangle
The energies flow in their divine presence
For the Supreme to be and stay with
Us. Divine steadiness within us in oneness.
So from the heights to the bottoms
Far within and out inside we will
Be here passing to one what we
Were there being apart.
In Love and Light for now and Then, eternity everywhere in the Middle of nowhere will be the center and

The spot sending us the synthesis from
Where we came to work.
As I will be the one you will be me as well,
In them all we will fall apart to bring
Them part of the divine they already share.
Steady in the selves we will break the
Limits coming from the mind in its insidious lights
And warriors on the path we will
Love and lighten the wholeness of the selves
For us to meet and to help.
Being your heart and mine and theirs and others,
I will remain within and outside of yours
Ready to answer the call happening in
Each heart when the note is heard and
When the lights are seen.
Of the chaos and the Light a linkage has
Been achieved and love is the action which
Can take out of the first and push to the Second.
First and second are also the rays
Able to destroy for the first and
Able to build on for the second.
Together in synthesis they will bring to
The world this part of wholeness
Where female and male can find
Their complement and their joy to create
As we did in the triangle sharing out
What we had.
This accomplishment would be of no
Interest if it were not the one to implement
For this 21st century with the Teaching in

Its third part where the energies of Shamballa
Are the means to be aware of.

From the place where you are and the Place where you will be the distance is none
Because within its opening the heart has
Dissolved in the rays in a blaze of color.
Depending on what you are and depending on Where I am the vibrating circles of oneness in Us will bring you to me and I will stay in you
During the moment and within the Presence
Identifying us as one and only to work
As a divine couple with Love and Light.

You are the children and your hearts are Within His heart, and being part of
His Life you are blessed to act and serve
His Will.
His intention is the purest,
His Love unlimited
His Light His feminine pole and
His Heart the wheel of the One Life.
Coming to the threshold of Shamballa
You are the consciousness of His Multitude
And being parts of the All, then the Action will be as right as the thoughts and
When the moment has come, you will be the Arrows of His Will just as you are
The men and women in His Manifestation
Of human kind.
Beloved you are blessed for

The group consciousness is the springboard for the Heights and the lawns you will step on
To serve in His name, mediating the Word in His silent way that is also
Your words and speech to point to and tell.
And so, in the name of His will and in the Word of His silence, you will be part of the Plan
In the purpose of the Great Design.
This is the path of the warrior of Shamballa, while Motion is eternity and heart the fire upholding the Present like a torch of timelessness
Burning out the future to enhance and lighten
The route of Humanity to its best.
Being the flesh and the blood you are also
The hands and the feet on the groundless
Layers you are working on for landing the Light in the cells of your bodies.
Radiating it as an opaline lamp you will
Be the gentle spark of His intelligence which
Is not, at least, anything other than the
Triangle of His One Life:
Love Light Will.
Mediated through Shamballa by the
Beloved Service on earth, the waves of this Tide-less motions and the opportunities in the Affairs of the World in all areas concerned as in Society, politics, economics, art, or whatever,
Are the links to be bound for His Will to Express through Love and Light.
So be blessed and love them who,
Sharing the action at the right time and

Expressing synthesis in Allness are the Warriors on earth stepping on the path of Shamballa unto Human consciousness.
From the Source and within,
From and not from this human world
In this human world and not of it
You come and go,
Remaining forever and unto eternity
The radiant blades of the Word,
Building up the pieces of the Plan into the Multitude because here is the synthesis to be Shown, here is the Light to be embodied,
Here is the Love to be lived, here, on Earth, the next step of the sacred architecture,
For the planet to evolve and for Humanity to open its eyes through
The consciousness of everyone of
What is here, coming from
The Oneness of Shamballa to
Be lived and experienced in Allness.

You are the ones, parts of the One,
Children of love
Carriers of Light
His will is here for you to surrender to,
The right step for everyone for Coming and going, still remaining
On earth and from Shamballa,
From now to the time where the Planet at last sacred will be the Result of you all serving in your

Will and His in total oneness.
Being the ones you are all who
Can open their hearts to this
Triangle, the trinity of His Goodness and Actionlessness which in your hands and with
Your feet will see on earth the realization as Love, Light and Will, to be understood and Lived because you will be the examples of this Life One we are all born of.

Obedience, incidence, residence,
There is no coincidence.
Being mobile you will keep the wings of Motion and flying the cycles of the Right movements over the ocean of droplets
You also are from, you will dance the Evolution of the heart with the
Steps of Christ on his way down to earth.
Reliability, ability, infinity, you are
The iridescent pearls dropping from the will of God
As the divine necklace of humanity, you
Roll the tides of space up and down as
Its link to Shamballa.
Be aware
Be self-aware
Be loved and
Be blessed while I AM your Instructor and Brother
Remaining simply your
